Tilburg, September 2019

From balcony to vertical forest

Vertical gardening seems complicated, but it doesn't have to be. Of course, you can create your own, complicated system, but you can also spend that valuable time picking the best plants or enjoying some down time on your balcony with a view of your own vertical forest. elho's corsica vertical forest is a unique hanging system for your balcony railing or wall, and lets you create a vertical garden within minutes.

The corsica collection has been a much-loved bestseller for years, and this new system turns everyone's favourite plant pot into a modern, urban jungle. Is your balcony already filled to the nook with plant pots, but still want more? These pots are made to just hang up and stare at for days. A smart solution for limited space, and one that looks fantastic.

The corsica vertical forest pots are available in sets of three, and include hooks for the railing or fence. You simply click the pots in place, hang them from your balcony or wall, et voilà. With eight different colours, from vintage blue to vivid violet, you will always find one that fits your style.

Bohemian, sleek and minimalist, classic or urban: a vertical forest belongs to every type of balcony.

Available from 1. January 2020
